

LEADING CHANGE WORKSHOP

6 – 8 October, in Prague, Czech Republic

WANO Paris Centre is pleased to announce a workshop on Leading change.

The success of change management relies heavily on the ability of First and Second Line Managers (those at the “actionable level”), to effectively promote and communicate proposed changes, create the right environment and positively manage uncertainty that any change process will entail. Their role is to lead their teams through change situations, and ensure that changes are successfully implemented and organisational stress is managed.

Topics

The Programme will be facilitated by WANO with invited nuclear leaders providing inputs and presentations. Key themes of the workshop will be:

- Difference between leading change and managing change
- What is change and types of organizational change
- Tools and strategies for dealing with different types of change

Objectives of the workshop

The overall objective of the workshop is to share experiences of successful performance improvement changes, to help first and second line managers, or owners of change management programmes to lead the people aspect of change implementation. In order to achieve this objective, they need to:

- Understand the different types of change,
- Be able to design a change management program
- Develop a communication program
- Design a training program
- Put in place KPIs in order to monitor and measure the change understanding and effectiveness

Target group: Department Managers (Operations Mgr., Maintenance Mgr., Chemistry Mgr., Engineering Mgr. Performance Improvement Mgr, etc.) or leaders that have improvement changes as part of their responsibility and accountability.
